

A rustic wooden cross is constructed from two weathered logs. The vertical post is secured to a large, dark, textured tree stump. The horizontal beam is also made of a log, with some dried leaves and twigs attached to it. The background is a soft, misty forest with green trees under a pale sky.

Ephesians

united by the moment

Unless we learn the true definition of submission and put it into practice, none of our marriages can function correctly.

“...submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ.”

Ephesians 5:21 (ESV)

A wooden cross stands on a large, weathered tree stump in a forest. The cross is made of two thick, natural logs. The background shows a dense forest of green trees under a bright sky. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

“Wives, understand and support your husbands in ways that show your support for Christ.”

Ephesians 5:22 (The Message)

“...the husband is the head of the wife even as Christ is the head of the church.”

Ephesians 5:23 (ESV)

A wooden cross stands on a large, weathered tree stump in a forest. The cross is made of two simple wooden beams. The background shows a dense forest of green trees under a bright sky.

Ephesians 5:25-33

“Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her...”

Ephesians 5:25 (ESV)

“No husband is playing his proper role in marriage until he learns to give himself up to his wife, to open his heart to her, to share his emotions and dreams, his thoughts and disappointments, his joys and to fully expose himself to his wife. And there is nothing that makes a woman happier than to know that she fully enters her husband’s life. That fulfils her, and it fulfils him.”
